Planes, Artillery
And Tanks Hit Red
Concentrations
In Red Delta Area

HANOI, Indochina (P)—French planes, tanks and artillery pounded small concentrations of Communist-led Vietnamese guerrillas in the Red River delta today.

The main rebel forces meanwhile took a firmer hold on their semicircle of positions just outside the delta defense perimeter, strengthening the pincers they are expected to try to close soon around this war capital.

A French high command spokesman said upwards of 100 Vietnamese were killed or captured in mopping-up operations within a few miles from Hanoi. French Union losses were relatively light, the spokesman added.

The French announced they would return 267 seriously wounded and ill Vietnamese troops June 11 and another 302 June 14.

The prisoners are being returned in exchange for wounded French Union forces which the Vietnamese allowed to be evacuated from the fallen French fortress of Dien Bien Phu.

The June 11 exchange will be at Dinh Cau, 35 miles northwest of Hanoi and the June 14 exchange at the bridge crossing the Thu Bon River, a few miles south of Tourane.

The agreement on exchange points was received today from Vietnamese headquarters in answer to the offer radioed by the French June 2. Under the agreement, all hostilities will stop in both areas from midnight before the exchange to the following midnight.

In Indochina's other major city, Saigon, residents were awakened early today by the booming of artillery fire as French Union troops beat back an attack on a post four miles away.

The French command said the attackers were not numerous and the encounter was a minor one.

Red Declares U. S. Policies Stall Geneva

GENEVA (P)—Red China's Chou En-Lai declared today the policies of the United States are "seriously blocking the way to progress at the Geneva Conference."

The Chinese Communist foreign minister also assailed what he called the "war faction in France" for following American policy and adopting "a dilatory policy in relation to the Geneva Conference."

He spoke at a semi-public meeting of the nine-party Indochina peace parity, which yesterday heard Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov deliver a similar attack on the United States and France.

Chou also followed Molotov's lead in demanding that the peace talks turn immediately to a political settlement in Indochina without waiting for an end of the fighting.

A U. S. spokesman called the Molotov speech "purely destructive." A British spokesman said it contained nothing helpful. The French called it "extremely aggressive" and said it contained "provocative terms."

Ike Will Broadcast Speech Thursday Night

NEW YORK (P)—President Eisenhower will broadcast a speech from Washington tomorrow night. Mutual Broadcasting System said it had scheduled the speech on its radio network at 9:30 p. m. (CST).

An MBS spokesman said he understood the President would address a Citizens for Eisenhower group at the Statler Hotel on his legislative program.

The American Broadcasting Co. said it also would carry the speech, but that the time of its broadcast had not been set.

Ice Cream Strike Beginning to Melt

KANSAS CITY (P)—Kansas City's ice cream strike appeared on the way to settlement today.

Agreement on terms of a new contract for the production workers and delivery drivers was reached early today by 11 plants and representatives of local 207 of the Teamsters union. The union members still must ratify the agreement.

The workers struck yesterday protesting failure to reach an agreement on a new contract. Terms of the agreement were not announced.

School Board Seeks Data on School Sites

Discusses Two Possible Building Locations
In West Part of City; Hunt Reports All
Teaching Posts Filled for the Coming Year

By Peter Potter

The Sedalia Board of Education devoted its time at its regular meeting Tuesday night mainly to two items, discussion on a building site in the west side of town and the purchase of school supplies.

The discussion on the site centered on the comparative merits of two sites, the Parkway addition bounded by Fifth, Warren, Seventh and Limit, and a site immediately west of it, bounded by Limit, Fifth, a line extending approximately across from Seventh and going about 235 feet west.

It was decided that more detailed information on dimensions and location of buildings and landmarks within the two areas was needed. Raymond Wilder, county surveyor, was contacted to do the work. The discussion will be resumed at the July board meeting.

The rest of the evening was taken up in approval of the purchase of supplies, physical education supplies, instructional supplies, janitorial supplies, industrial arts supplies, stadium lockers, music instruments and stoves and a refrigerator for the home economics department. It also accepted low bids on printing and the annual audit.

Bids on art supplies were received from Hoover Bros., Kansas City, and Hickey-Ashby, but only the Hoover bid was complete. Its amount of $1,849.05 was accepted by the board.

Bids on physical education supplies were received from the Sport Center, Cash Hardware, Hoffman Hardware and William Ellinger, St. Joseph. None of the Ellinger bids were low enough, the board decided, to outside the chase of major bids of the three cities, and the low bids of the three cities were accepted. They totaled $1,385.

Instructional and janitorial supplies were handled the same way. Bids on instructional supplies were received from Hoover Bros., Hickey-Ashby, Scotten Book Store, Hick-Sock Shop, Kiang's, Sedalia Central Times, Sedalia Fruit Co., Hurlburt Printing Co., Haller, Office Equipment Co., and Mid-Western.

Haller's low bid of $1,223 for all paper needed was accepted, and the other supplies were purchased according to low bid of local firms, going to Scott's, Kiang's, the Sedalia Fruit Co., and Haller's. Exceptions were four up-usually low bids won by Hoover Bros., and another by Mid-Western. All these, less the Haller bid, on paper, totaled $820.

Bids on janitorial supplies were received from Cash Hardware, Dugan's, Smith-Scharf, Shryack-Wright Grocery Co., Sedalia Fruit Co., and Hoffman's Hardware.

Low bids were won by all but Smith-Scharf, which was two high on the only three items it submitted bids for. Bids totaled $1,310.

The board accepted the low bid of Haller on 66 lockers for the Jennie Jaynes Lewis Memorial Stadium. The lockers will measure 15 by 15 inches and will stand five feet tall. The bids were: Haller, $10.89 each; Hoover Bros., $11.10; and E. H. Fording, Kansas City, $11.37.

The low bid of $811.80 by Mountjoy on musical instruments was accepted by the board. The bid included the trade-in of two used instruments. Other bids submitted were: Shaw, $850; George's, of California, $825; and McLean's, of Kansas City, $964.

Three new ranges, two electric and one gas, and a refrigerator were purchased for the Smith-Cotton home economics department. Bids were received from Anderson's, Burkholder's, Deck's, Firestone, Goodrich, McLaughlin's, Missouri Public Service, and the Sedalia Refrigeration Co.

Although lower bids were received than those accepted, the ones accepted were the lowest for those accompanied by a replacement contract offer. The terms of this contract provide that the firm selling the unit will provide the school with new models of that unit as they are released, free of charge to the school. This would be about once a year.

An electric range was purchased from Anderson's for $254.67 and two gas ranges from Missouri Public Service for $253.54 each. Together with a Frigidaire electric range already on hand at the school, this will provide one gas and one electric range for each of the two home economics rooms. In addition, a 10-cubic-foot refrigerator was purchased from Missouri Public Service for the low bid of $236.96 with a replacement contract.

Sealed bids for the audit were opened by Supt. Heber Hunt, who announced that Taylor-Wagoner Co. offered to audit the board's books and the cafeteria and activity funds of the nine city schools for $320. Arthur J. Morgan declined to make a flat bid but offered a rate of $35 a day for a CPA supervisor and $21 a day for an assistant, based on a 7-hour day. The board accepted the Taylor-Wagoner bid.

Three bids were received for printing, and the low bid of the Hurlburt Printing Co. was accepted. Bids were: Hurlburt, $1,134.50; Acme Printing Co., $1,408.25; and the Sedalia Times, $1,600.

The board also voted to pay a deficit of $461.12 in the Hubbard activity fund.

One new teacher was hired, Miss Marchesa Malone, as an art teacher at Smith-Cotton High School. She has had teaching experience at Grandview.

Supt. Hunt told the board members that this completes the staff for next year, with the exception of a driver-trainer. He said that the number of new teachers available this year has been surprisingly high, a far cry from last year when 29 vacancies had to be filled. Only 13 replacements have had to be made so far this year.

Mundt said it was difficult for him to find ways to stop "this mid-morning madness."

Symington dared McCarthy to go before a special Senate Committee—which Symington suggested that Vice President Nixon appoint—to answer questions raised by a Senate Rules subcommittee in its report on a 1952 inquiry into McCarthy's financial dealings.

Symington proposed McCarthy sign a written agreement with him. McCarthy didn't sign it but said "if it is necessary to have a special committee to re-investigate these smears, I will now make a firm commitment to go before that committee to answer the smears."

The possibility that any such hearings will be held is remote. The Senate itself would have to vote such a procedure, irrespective of any agreement Symington and McCarthy might make.

Symington popped out with his challenge to McCarthy when Mr. Cohn, chief counsel to McCarthy's investigations subcommittee who was in the witness chair, came to question Cohn. McCarthy posed a lengthy question which amounted to an attack on Symington.

The question assailed Symington's handling of a threatened strike during World War II at St. Louis plant then heated by Symington.

McCarthy wanted to know if these facts did not tip the public to why Symington had repeated this morning "all the old smears" and why Symington had tried to get the Democratic party to force a halt to his investigation of communism through the current hearings.

McCarthy's question, in hypothetical form, suggested a "deal" was made to settle the strike with a man named "Sentner," since jail-

Missouri Senator On Stand

Symington Offers To Testify When Mac Okays Probe Of Finance Deals

WASHINGTON (P)—Sen. Symington offered today to testify in the McCarthy-Army hearings if Sen. McCarthy will agree to a special Senate investigation of his financial dealings, McCarthy declared he was willing.

Denouncing Symington's challenge as "a vicious smear," McCarthy said he was glad it was made on television "so millions of people can see how low a man can sink—I repeat, how low an alleged man can sink."

At another point, McCarthy said Symington had taken up the line of the Daily Worker, which McCarthy said has been belaboring him for years about old charges of malfeasance in office.

Buick Pushed Down Rails Over Half-Mile--

No One Injured When Train Hits Car Parked On MoPac's Mainline

A tragedy was averted shortly after 4 a. m. Wednesday when the Missouri Pacific passenger train No. 20, eastbound, struck and demolished a 1952 Buick sedan, which had been left on the main line of the railroad. The Buick lugged on the front of the diesel engine and was pushed, bumping on the rails and ties, a distance of 2,435 feet. The Buick belonged to Frank Brosch, 608 West Second.

According to rail officials it was "just luck" that the car did not cause the train to leave the rails. After the impact, the car burst into flames and the completely demolished wreckage was burned to a mass of molten metal.

Brosch was found walking west on Highway 50 about three miles west of Dresden by State Trooper Earl Gregory. Brosch could not recall just what had happened or how he happened to drive the car on to the main line of the railroad.

Asked where he was when the train hit, Brosch told Trooper Gregory he was standing nearby. He said he heard the train coming, heard it hit, then just a "switch."

The car was headed west on the main line and had been driven from the Dresden crossing down to the switch at the west end of the siding. Here the car became lodged in the switch fork. Brosch said he tried to get the car loose, but was unable to do so.

The front end of the car was smashed, lodged between the pilot and the coupling on the front end of the diesel and caused the air hose to snap. When the air snapped, the brakes automatically became set. But before the train stopped it had traveled a distance from the switch, eastward across a railroad motor car crossing, and on down to near the east switch of the siding, a distance of approximately 2,435 feet—more than one-half a mile.

The motor car crossing, used to take the handcar and railroad motor cars off the tracks to a dirt and rock parking area, apparently tore away the gasoline tank of the car and set it fire to at this spot. This caused a dense smoke cloud in front of the diesel cab and blocked out the vision of the engineer, Henry C. Sammons, 405 North Stewart, Sedalia, for a brief time.

From the point of impact to where the train stopped there were bolts, nuts, hub caps, parts of the car frame, parts of the body and parts of the motor, starter, generator and gasoline tank scattered along the right of way.

Ray Sullivan, Jefferson City, was the conductor on the train. V. Glenn Sammons of Jefferson City, brakeman and Charles McClellan, St. Louis, the porter.

McClellan was walking up when he saw a man walking up when they were at the crossing where they were. McClellan asked him if he knew where they could get water and the man said "No," then turned and walked off toward the west. The porter reported it was Brosch to whom he had talked.

Engineer Sammons reported he was coming around a curve when suddenly he saw headlights on the track. At first, he said, he thought it was a freight on the siding. Then realized too late it was a stalled car on the track. "I never expected to see an automobile on the tracks at that point," Sammons reported.

Passenger train No. 20 was delayed more than two hours, being due in at 4 a. m. The train arrived in Sedalia at 6:07 a. m. and departed at 6:15. Passenger train No. 9, westbound, was delayed about 15 minutes and was permitted to pass around the wreck by using the Dresden siding, as was No. 79 freight, which ordinarily is ahead of it, but was held back in Sedalia to permit No. 9 to pass and continue ahead.

Georges Bidault Offers to Step Aside For Geneva Progress

PARIS (P)—Foreign Minister Georges Bidault said today the chances for a truce in Indochina have not been fully exhausted at Geneva, but he will gladly step aside if the National Assembly thinks another negotiator could do better.

Bidault spoke before the Assembly. He explained his moves at the Geneva conference in seeking the peace which the Assembly has often requested. But he criticized the deputies for their repeated discussions of the Indochina situation.

He declared France is the only nation in the world to permit parliamentary discussions of subjects which are under diplomatic negotiation.

Cloudburst With Five Inch Rain, Damages

MT. STERLING, Mo. (P)—A cloudburst dumped five inches of rain near here Monday night, causing damage estimated at $10,000. Farm land was flooded and a new bridge being built over third creek on Gasconade County Route A was damaged. The main force of the two-hour storm hit an area five miles wide and 13 to 15 miles long.

Thief Makes Big Haul In Shoe Repair Shop

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (P)—Police reported a burglar broke into U. S. Medina Shoe Repair Shop and made a soft-footed getaway with 79 pairs of rubber soles.

CAR BURNS AFTER IMPACT—This is the burning Buick when the MoPac train had come to a halt after pushing the vehicle more than a half mile down the railroad mainline near Dresden early today.

Air Force Colonel Races 421 Miles Per Hour on Land Sled

ALAMOGORDON, N. M. (P)—A 43-year-old Air Force colonel reached a speed of 421 miles an hour on the ground—a record for a human—during recent tests at Holloman Air Force Base here.

Lt. Col. John P. Stapp, a veteran of aviation medical research, rode a rocket-propelled sled designed to find out the effect upon fliers of bailing out at very high altitudes and supersonic speeds.

"Things happen too fast to think about them at the time," he said after the 3,500-foot run, which takes just seven seconds.

The critical factor in the test is the effect of the braking on the passenger. Officials estimate Col. Stapp's body underwent a pressure of 22 times the force of gravity

Demos Shake California 2-Party Plan

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—California's unique run-on-both-tickets political system was shaken by a surprising Democratic vote in yesterday's primary election.

The Democratic surge overrode national party criticism of James Roosevelt and helped the eldest son of the late New Deal President win nomination for Congress from heavily Democratic Los Angeles. He'll oppose Republican Theodore (Ted) Owings in November.

Similarly, Rep. Robert L. Condon (D-Calif.), also renounced by Democratic National Chairman Stephen Mitchell, was renominated and will face John F. Baldwin Jr., the Republican he defeated in 1952.

And right on down the line, Democrats nominated Democrats for national and state offices—in sharp contrast to previous elections when many Republicans were elected on both tickets, won both nominations and the were elected in the primary.

Democratic voters obviously paid no need to charges of infidelity against Roosevelt by his estranged wife and to the listing of Condon as a security risk by the Atomic Energy Commission. Roosevelt called his wife's accusations untrue. Condon testified he was never a Communist member or sympathizer.

Gov. Goodwin J. Knight easily won his own Republican nomination for that office but trailed Richard P. Graves on the Democratic ticket. A registered Republican until December, the 47-year-old Graves was a political unknown until he entered the campaign.

Knight, 57, twice was elected lieutenant governor. He succeeded Chief Justice Earl Warren as governor last fall.

Rep. Samuel W. Yorty (D-Calif.), whom Roosevelt seeks to succeed in the House, maintained a 2-1 Democratic lead over Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel (R-Calif.). Warren appointed Kuchel when California's Richard M. Nixon became vice president.

Knight and Kuchel built huge majorities for their own GOP nominations. Veteran Republican state officials, consistent two-party winners in the past, also were forced into runoffs.

The returns all added up to a repudiation of the double nomination tradition in California and a reawakening of partisan voting. And three little letters probably had a lot to do with it.

The Democratic trend came in an election in which candidates continued the cross-filing system of running on both tickets. But for the first time in 40 years the ballot identified them by party. The abbreviation "Dem." or "Rep." followed the names.

The Democrats for years have outnumbered Republicans — by 760,000 for yesterday's election — but under the cross-filing without party labels Republican incumbents usually won in both tickets.

Only Atty. Gen. Edmund G. Brown among state officials was assured of election. And he is the only Democrat holding a statewide job. He defeated former Republican Atty. Gen. Fred N. Howser of Los Angeles on the GOP ticket by a lopsided vote.

Graves, for 20 years executive director of the League of California Cities and once Warren's civil defense chief, claimed victory on the Democratic ticket in a statement declaring, "Knight has shot his bolt."

Latest figures:
For governor:
Democratic—7,188 of 22,524 precincts;
Knight, 163,961; Graves, 178,673.
Republican — 6,883 precincts;
Knight, 256,078; Graves, 26,610.
U. S. Senate:
Democratic — 7,245 precincts;
Kuchel, 99,431; Yorty, 162,460.
Republican — 7,214 precincts;
Kuchel, 210,051; Yorty, 22,359.

Two years ago, prior to the ballot designation, Sen. William F. Knowland (R-Calif.) and 14 of 30 congressmen captured both nominations.

Everybody But the Martians Now Writing to Little Girl

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—Everybody hope Linda Sue won't give up her dream and will go ahead with her plans to see the Martians "in my 9-year-old 'Little Girl Who Owns a Spaceship.' Linda Sue's mother, Mrs. Arthur Russell, said:

"Linda Sue and I will try to answer as many letters as we can. We feel very thankful for them."

An editorial in a New Bedford, Mass., newspaper, enclosed by "a grand mother (an old one)," seemed to sum up the thoughts of most of those writing Linda Sue. The editorial concluded:

"In the meantime, the rest of the inhabitants of the war-weary earth may be assured that peace, with or without help from outer space, is far from unattainable as long as there exist the faith and hope of a rising generation typified by Linda Sue."

A young boy from Mobile, Ala., who doesn't want Linda Sue's schoolmates to laugh at her, wrote: "I am the Martian you wrote to and I would like to stop war in the earth too. I'm afraid I can't come to your city but I can write to you."

The lad asked Linda Sue to draw another map showing where he should land his space ship. On the bottom of the letter was a crude drawing of his celestial transport.

A letter of praise arrived from the SFCon, call letters for the 12th annual Science Fiction Convention, to be held soon in California.

"We can't promise you that there will be any martians present," the letter said.

However, it made Linda Sue an honorary member for the convention and invited her to attend.

The letters keep coming. Some tell of seeing flying saucers in the

Site Is Selected For Exhibit Building In South Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—A mile-long site along Lake Michigan has been selected for Chicago's new Convention and Exhibits Building.

The property was the site of the Century of Progress exposition in 1933-34 and the Chicago Railroad Fair in 1948-49. It covers some 30 acres between 16th and 23rd streets on the near South Side.

Engineering officials of the city's Park District said the hall will be the biggest of its kind in the nation, larger than those in Cleveland and Atlantic City. Actual construction plans have not been made.

Highway Patrolman Catches 4 Escapees

ST. JOSEPH (AP)—A highway patrolman last night captured four young escapees from a Cheyenne, Wyo., stockade after their stolen car crashed into a ditch near here.

State Trooper R. W. Dreher said he fired once at one of the men as they fled on foot across a field after the accident.

The one man stopped but the others continued their flight. Two truck drivers held him while Dreher pursued and caught the others.

Sheriff Floyd Ramsey, Oregon, Mo., said the men admitted escaping from the stockade and also stealing the car at Cheyenne.

They were identified as Rex Alexander, 18, Paducah, Ky.; Gordon Amsworth, 17, Aurora, Ore.; Paul Driscoll, 17, Malden, Mass.; and Donald Deas, 19, New Orleans, La.

The estate was equally divided between his sister, Mary Louanna, and his two brothers, Charles and Minot. The sister has died since the will was drawn on July 11, 1944.

Sailor's Body Is Found In Bag On British Train

RUGBY, England (AP)—The naked body of an 18-year-old sailor was found in a tightly fastened plastic clothes case last night aboard a speeding Blackpool-to-London train.

The dead youth, John Barber, was discovered in a washroom by the conductor, who noticed that the compartment had been engaged for more than an hour.

The conductor forced the door. Slumped on the floor, with the semitransparent traveling wardrobe fitted around him like a glove, was the young seaman. His clothing lay strewn on the floor.

The train was stopped here and a doctor called. He gave the cause of death as suffocation.

Although puzzled over how the case came to be fastened air tight, police investigators said they had no reason to suspect foul play. A railway official told reporters:

"The lad seemed to have breathed all the air inside the plastic covering, and it had contracted around him like a second skin."

Young Barber was returning to his duties on the Royal Navy aircraft carrier Implacable after a furlough.

Congress Highlights ...

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators investigating the McCarthy-Army row await the reaction of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) to an Army plan for bringing the inquiry to an early end.

Special Army Counsel Joseph N. Welch suggests the investigators hear only two more witnesses—McCarthy and Francis P. Carr, chief of staff of the Senate Investigations subcommittee.

Roy M. Cohn, subcommittee regular counsel, is in the witness chair as the 30th day of public hearings gets underway.

ATOMIC—The Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee goes into secret session after completing public hearings on a broad plan for controlling nuclear power. The proposal would give more authority to the chairman of the five-member Atomic Energy Commission. This is opposed by three commissioners but former President Herbert Hoover says it is necessary for commission efficiency.

FOREIGN AID—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee calls Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, for secret testimony on the administration request for a $2-billion-dollar foreign aid program.

Ball-and-Chain 'Gag' Runs Into Difficulty

NEW YORK (AP)—Bernard Falk, 27, who'll be married Sunday, got his ball—a 50-pound job—and a chain.

It's an old custom among the fellows at the laboratory where Falk works. They snap on the chain at a pre-wedding party and throw away the key. Then someone shows up with a duplicate.

Yesterday the party broke up and no one could find the duplicate key. A policeman with a pair of snips finally liberated the prospective bridegroom.

Minnesota Woman Worries Over Feast for An Emperor

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—The home-made cookies and lemonade were all ready.

But a Minnesota farm wife was worrying today about how much an African Emperor could eat or drink of them on a stop scheduled for just 20 minutes.

And are he and his party going to like the treats?

Mrs. Edwin Doty, who helps her husband farm in southern Minnesota, made the preparations when Haile Selassie, ruler of Ethiopia, said he wanted to view a typical farm during his one-day visit to Minnesota.

Mrs. Doty was hoping she had enough of her and her husband's favorite goodies—while looking askance at an official party listing enough persons to fill eight autos.

The entourage was starting the day with religious devotions and breakfast here at Christ Lutheran Church, followed by a tour of St. Paul and Minneapolis.

At the state capitol, Gov. C. Elmer Anderson was greeting the royal guests before the caravan departed for Rochester and a morning tour of the world-famed Mayo Clinic.

Seven miles south of Rochester comes the 11:50 a.m. to 12:10 p.m. stop at the Dotys.

"Oh, I guess we were picked just because we happened to be handy, right on Highway 63," said Mrs. Doty as she pondered last minute preparations for the regal visitor. She said she was being buoyed up somewhat by the fact a luncheon is slated at Austin only 55 minutes after the motorcade departs from her home.

"So they can't eat so very much and I ought to have enough of everything," she concluded. The Dotys, principally livestock farmers, were happy that the fields along the Emperor's path were green with sprouted corn.

In Austin, Selassie will tour the Geo. A. Hormel Co. meat packing plant after being guest of that firm for luncheon. The caravan returns here for a 6 p.m. press conference following tea the ruler will sip with President Clemens M. Granshaw of St. Olaf College at Northfield.

The Minnesota day ends with Selassie talking on Ethiopian farming as compared to American methods at a dinner on the University of Minnesota campus. The party departs tomorrow for Spokane, Wash.

Damage Claims Mount Against Bing Crosby And His Son, Gary

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP)—Another damage suit, filed against Bing Crosby and his son Gary yesterday, brings to a total of $155,000 claims arising from an automobile accident of May 24 involving the famed singer's son.

Carlos Alvaraz asked $15,000 for injuries he said he received in the accident. Felix Olvera, 24, a Mexican national, was killed in the collision.

County officials have filed no charges. They said neither driver appeared to be at fault.

3,166 Acres In Area Have Been Sprayed To Kill Army Worms

County Agent Merle Vaughan reports that the plane doing aerial spraying for army worms caught up with back orders Monday night. It is now available to spray pastures, corn fields and other crops besides small grain.

According to records in the office of Gib Owens, at the T. & O. Rock Phosphate Co., the planes have sprayed a total of 3,166 acres in this area since May 22.

Extension entomologists do not expect much damage to be done by the worms after this week because of a build-up of natural enemies.

ROK Liberals Unite To Name Assembly Chairman, Back Rhee

SEOUL (AP)—Members of President Syngman Rhee's Liberal party today pushed aside long-standing differences to agree on a chairman of the new National Assembly and give Rhee what appeared to be his first solid working majority.

Former Defense Minister Lee Ke Noong, unseated P. H. Shinicky, leader of Rhee's opposition 124-52 for chairman.

The Liberals won a numerical majority in the Assembly for the first time this year. But there had been speculation that factional disputes would make it difficult for Rhee to retain a working majority.

In naming a chairman, however, only three Liberals refused to vote for Lee.

Begins New State Rules On Weight

The State Highway Commission's chief engineer on June 1 put into effect revised rules governing vehicular movements on state highways which exceed legal limits as to weight and dimensions. The new regulations aim at greater protection against damage to highway surfaces and structures, and to the public interest and safety from such vehicle movements. All such movements over state highways must be made under special permits, and over designated routes. Such overdimension permits may be obtained from any of the Commission's ten district highway offices outstate, but the over weight permits must be obtained at the Main Office in Jefferson City.

Dimension and weight limits are those prescribed by law: 8 feet wide, 12 feet 6 inches high, 35 feet long for single unit and 45 feet for combinations; 60,010 pounds gross weight, 18,000 pounds for each single axle and 16,000 pounds for each tandem axle.

One new provision requires that an escort vehicle display red flags accompany all loads exceeding one-half the width of the narrowest pavement or bridge to be traveled, or if the loads are more than 65 feet in length or over 14 feet high. Such vehicles must have front and rear flagmen equipped with red flags, or "STOP" and "SLOW" signs, those flagmen to be properly stationed to warn, direct or stop traffic at all bridges, or wherever any portion of the vehicle or load is stopped on the pavement, or projects over or across the adjacent traffic lane.

The rules also specify size of red flags—five square feet in area. They must be clearly visible for at least 300 feet and must be displayed on the escort vehicle, as well as at the extreme ends or projections of all overweight and overlength loads and vehicles.

Such overdimension and overweight vehicles are limited to a speed not exceeding 10 miles per hour crossing bridges and 40 miles per hour at any other time. Also, bond, or proof of financial responsibility, up to $50,000 for property damage will be required hereafter for overweight and overdimension movements which might cause damage to highway pavement or structures.

No permits will be granted: for loads readily reducible in dimension or weight; for axle weights greater than 18,000 pounds except for short distances to or from the nearest railroad siding; for load in excess of 12 feet in width or 75 feet in length, except for short distances which will not unduly interfere with normal traffic movement; or for house trailer combinations in excess of 60 feet in length.

Permits will be issued only for daylight movement. They will not permit Saturday afternoon, Sunday or holiday movement. On heavy traffic routes alternate routing may be specified, and Saturday morning movements may be eliminated.

The new rules also specify that all overdimension and overweight movements should be anticipated and applications filed three to five days prior to the date of movement. Telegraphic permits will be issued only in unavoidable emergencies hereafter.

When applications are made for overdimension movements, they should give description of load, make and license number of truck or tractor, and of semi-trailer or trailer, overall width, height and length of vehicle, with load, point of entry or origin, point of exit or destination, routes to be traveled and insurance carried.

Overweight permits will be issued on single trip basis. Overweight permit requests should show the number of axles, load per axle and gross load, in addition to information required for overdimension permits.

Like Says His Program Designed to Build Peace by Strength

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower says his legislative program is designed to build the kind of national strength which will "lead us most certainly to a life that is secure and peaceful." Going to bat for that program, the President also said in a speech yesterday that the proposals he has placed before Congress don't overstep the federal government's function or create a danger the people in government will become "merely busybodies."

Eisenhower set forth his views in an informal 10-minute talk at commencement exercises on the campus of 172-year-old Washington College in Chestertown, Md. Before he spoke to about 3,500 under a scorching sun, he was awarded an honorary doctor of laws degree. An accompanying citation praised the President as a man who is devoting "his executive and diplomatic talents to the leadership of our country in a time of decision unparalleled in the world's history."

C. of C. Board Will Receive The Charter

A resolution was passed Tuesday afternoon at a meeting of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce to adopt the articles of incorporation to revise the Chamber of Commerce charter.

Many things were discussed at the meeting with various directors making reports of the committee meetings of their divisions. Merle Vaughan, director of the farm marketing division, has a particularly outstanding report. He announced the annual picnic given by the 4-H members for members of the Chamber of Commerce had been set for July 15.

Mr. Vaughan stated there was a possibility of a grain elevator being located here and while this elevator would not take care of the entire needs of this agricultural community, it would certainly take care of a large portion of it. He also told of plans being considered to build a fertilizer mixer plant and went on to explain that farmers must now mix their own fertilizer for their particular type of soil, but that such a plant would have the mixed fertilizer for them.

A Dairy Festival Day, Vaughan said, is being planned by his division and will be held the latter part of September.

Robert S. Johnson, director of the aviation and military affairs committee, told of the very successful Missouri Aviation Association tour that started in Sedalia and in which, during the three day tour, 400 planes participated. He told of the part his division played in taking care of those who came to Sedalia for the start of the tour.

Mr. Johnson also presented a plan for a Fly-In Day at the Missouri State Fair on the last day of the fair. He stated it would take the place of Air Force Day and would be termed instead Aviation Day, in which both the Air Force and air minded civilians would take part.

Mr. Johnson said that civilian aviation associations from this state and other states would be invited to the Fly-In on the last day of the fair. This would be a good thing for aviation in this area and would be good publicity for the fair, Johnson pointed out.

Maurice Hogan talked briefly on the program being held on roads and Judge J. V. Kesterson, who was also present at the meeting, stated that although the road program seemed slow, it was going along fine and the road situation and finances for the road program in Pettis County were good.

Del Heckart, director of the civic division, told of the work being done by the committee under him and of the recent meeting called by Mrs. Anna Bagby, chairman of the goodwill-selling Sedalia committee, at which a Chamber of Commerce-Air Force picnic was planned for June 22 at Liberty Park. The committee also made plans for a brochure on Sedalia, which is now being compiled, he said.

Members of the board decided to have a Sedalia float in Missouri On Parade, to be held the first day of the Missouri State Fair, and plans for such a float were turned over to the state and national affairs division.

An announcement was made of the Dutch dinner, at which a delegation from the Kansas City Chamber of Commerce will meet with members of the Sedalia organization. The date has been tentatively been set for 6:30 p. m. July 7, at Bothwell Hotel. This group, headed by Dwight Bedell, of the industrial department of the Kansas City Chamber of Commerce, will have agricultural experts and members of their agricultural committee to discuss agriculture. Members of the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce board of directors, members of the agricultural division and of the farm marketing division will meet with them.

Attending the meeting Tuesday afternoon were: Claude L. Boul, president, who presided at the meeting; K. U. Love, first vice president; Jack Cunningham, vice president; Chester A. Brown, executive manager; Mrs. Ike L. Warren, treasurer; Judge J. V. Kesterson, presiding judge of the County Court; George Dugan, Merle Vaughan, Robert Johnson, Maurice Hogan, W. A. Smith, Del Heckart, Jack Shoemaker, Miss Eva Evans, Jennie Miller and Bob Cain, members of the board.

Tavern Operator Faces Criminal Prosecution After Losing License

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo.

A tavern operator whose liquor license is suspended or revoked for any violation may also be tried under the criminal laws if that same offense violates any laws other than the liquor control act.

"It wouldn't be 'double jeopardy,'" Atty. Gen. John M. Dalton ruled today, because the liquor control action would be under civil statutes and the other charges would be under criminal statutes.

The opinion was written for Edward L. Dowd, St. Louis circuit attorney. He said a St. Louis County magistrate recently dismissed a charge of illegal possession of whisky against a five per cent beer retailer because the state already had suspended the operator's beer license.

Dowd said if that was double jeopardy, then a lot of cases taken up by St. Louis grand juries would be in the same class and "the enforcement of liquor violations will become a farce."

In a similar ruling, the attorney general told Earl Saunders, prosecuting attorney of Jefferson County, that the operator, the corporation and the barmaids of a Jefferson County 3.2 beer tavern could be prosecuted under the criminal laws for dispensing whisky highballs.

MU Students Get Jail Terms For Throwing Firecrackers From Car

COLUMBIA, Mo.

Three University of Missouri students faced a delay in their return home for the summer vacation today. They were given 15 days apiece in the city jail after they admitted in police court that they drove about the city last night throwing out firecrackers that brought minor injuries to four persons. They must each also pay a $100 fine.

The trio are Robert Charles Rigby, 18, of Kirksville, who said he set off the fireworks; Ronnie D. Edmondson, 20, of Cassville, driver of the car, and Donald Wane Shaner of Jackson, a passenger.

The three were hustled off to jail after their appearance in court. Two of them said they had not completed final examinations at the university, but Police Chief Paul Cheavens said they will not be permitted to leave the jail to take the tests.

KANSAS CITY, Mo.

A squall line, accompanied by showers and brief gusty winds, moved across Missouri today.

A severe windstorm struck a portion of Maryville last night pulling out big trees in a three block square area. Hail accompanied the rain that fell there early today.

The infants are bedded down in a plastic-lined steel drawer that slides between the mother's room and the baby's nursery. This allows the mother to be with her baby, left, and permits her to watch above the drawer, as nurse, right, cares for child in air-conditioned nursery.

Three More Local Men Into Marines For Sedalia Group

Three more local men, all Sedalians, have joined the Sedalia Leathernecks, bringing the total number of members to 17, two more than the original goal.

The new members are: Gary R. Cox, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Cox, 1002 East Fifth; Norman L. Vinson, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur P. Vinson, 1806 South Street; and Charles R. Kerr, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester W. Kerr, 1504 South Prospect.

All of them enlisted for two years.

Cox and Vinson both were graduated from Smith-Cotton High School last year and attended one year at Central Missouri State College, Warrensburg. Kerr graduated this spring from Smith-Cotton.

The Leathernecks are scheduled to leave Sedalia June 23 for San Diego by special plane. At the end of their basic training there, they will receive ten-day leaves at the same time.

So far, one man has enlisted for four years, five for three years, and the other 11 for two years. The Marine Corps is closing its openings for two-year enlistees July 1, and this will be the last chance for such enlistments.

Handling arrangements for the Sedalia Leathernecks are Marine Recruiters T/Sgt. Charles Erickson and S/Sgt. William Sanford, located in the Sedalia post office building.

Former Pastor At Syracuse Gets Ph. D. Degree

M. C. Ballenger, former pastor at the Syracuse Baptist Church and who began his teaching career in a Florence public school, received the degree of Doctor of Philosophy at Yale University Monday.

He is presently assistant director of the department of schools and colleges of the Board of Education and Publication of the American Baptist Convention.

Dr. Ballenger came to his present position with the Board of Education and Publication Feb. 1, 1953. He is also director of the Student Aid Fund, which makes grants and loans and administers scholarships. He works closely with the director of the department of schools and colleges, Dr. Ronald V. Dr. Ballenger is also responsible for the Educational Registry, a service that is helpful in obtaining Christian teachers for American Baptist colleges.

He is much interested in Christian emphasis in church-related colleges, and the subject of his doctoral dissertation is "Christian Commitment in College Administration."

Dr. Ballenger was born in Spartanburg, S. C., and attended high school in Twin Falls, Idaho. He majored in philosophy at William Jewell College, Liberty, from which he was graduated with the degree of A. B. in 1947. He studied at Yale Divinity School in 1948-49 and took and M. A. degree in the department of education at Yale in 1952.

He was ordained in the Second Baptist Church, Liberty, in May, 1943.

If you can, grab something firm at the water's edge and extend limb for victim to grasp and hold.

YOU can help someone in trouble even if you cannot swim! However, warns the American Red Cross, don't attempt a swimming rescue unless you have been trained in life saving. Someone in panic may pull you into the depths if you are not skilled.

If you cannot reach the victim, push an oar or piece of wood to give the victim some temporary support until help comes.

An oar, pole, line or even a towel can be extended toward the person in danger of drowning and who is too far for you to reach by hand.

Laniel Foes Renew Attack On Policy

PARIS (AP)—Premier Joseph Laniel's foes returned to the National Assembly today to renew their attack on his Indochina war policy.

The Indochina debate, which began last week with the usual assaults from the Socialists and Communists, was expected to warm up today when members of parties in Laniel's own majority open fire on his conduct of the war. Several leaders from these groups have asked to speak.

Debate on the explosive issue is not expected to reach the crucial stage until tomorrow. Foreign Minister Georges Bidault, on whom Laniel apparently is counting to turn the tide in his favor, will return from the Geneva conference to speak then.

Bidault waited over in Geneva to hear Russian Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov's policy speech to the indochina conference today. Western observers in Geneva generally believed the Russian had scheduled his statement at this time in an effort to influence the National Assembly action.

It was generally agreed that Laniel, who twice in the past month had to call for votes of confidence to continue his Indochina policy unchecked, would seek another such vote at the close of the talking.

The balloting probably will not come before late Thursday or Friday.

St. Joseph Council Balks at Annexation

ST. JOSEPH (AP)—The City Council balked again Monday at an annexation proposal and Mayor Stanley I. Dale ordered the fire department not to fight any fires outside the city limits.

"The City Council has daily dallied long enough over expansion of city limits," the mayor said. "It has been plain procrastination the last four years."

"This administration doesn't intend to service rural areas free of charge. If there is a fire on a fringe area, the fire trucks will go to the city limits to protect property inside the city."

Dale said it has cost St. Joseph $50,000 annually to give fire protection to suburban areas and nearby towns. Suburban residents were given until July 1 to arrange for other fire protection.

Report of Tests Was Delayed By Censorship—

Marshall Islanders Call Selves 'Poisoned People' After H-Bomb Tests

Petition UN to End Tests by US

Editor's Note—A shifting wind cast radioactive ash along an uncharted path after the March 1 testing of the hydrogen bomb. The result was injury to two score natives—and a petition to the United Nations which sums up the Marshall Islanders' feelings toward the radioactive danger and the loss of their land. To get the facts at the scene, AP correspondent William J. Waugh went from Honolulu to the Marshalls and spent 10 days interviewing injured persons and their leaders, and also personnel who run the atomic tests. This is the first of two stories reporting his preliminary findings. They were delayed by censorship in the Defense Department, the Atomic Energy Commission and the State Department. Only minor deletions were made in the original copy, however.

By WILLIAM J. WAUGH

KWAJALEIN, Marshall Islands, May 29 (AP)—They call themselves "the poisoned people."

There are the 82 natives of Rongelap Atoll who were showered by radioactive ash from the March 1 explosion of a hydrogen bomb.

One of them, John Anjin, said the ash rained down for 24 hours. "It looked like salt," he said. "It came down like a light rain. You could feel it strike your skin. It burned when it touched."

Some of the "poisoned people" lost their hair. Others were burned. Almost all of them are cured now—but they have been banished from their homes for a year. They are among the Marshall Islanders who have petitioned the United Nations to end atomic experiments in this area—or at least to see that the United States observes closer precautions.

The Marshall Islands, midway between Hawaii and the Philippines, came under U. S. control in the war 10 years ago. In 1947, the United States became their trustee under U. N. authority. The islands are low coral atolls with a population of about 11,000.

Natives of Bikini and Eniwetok atolls were uprooted in 1946-47 to make way for atomic experiments. In the March 1 blast the 82 persons on Rongelap and 154 on Utirik were exposed or endangered to such an extent that they were removed from their home atolls. The Utirik people have gone back, but the Rongelapers must wait a year—until their atoll is considered safe.

Anjin, a Rongelap leader, described the March 1 explosion: "First saw light, then smoke. Smoke went up, up and right through the clouds. Later heard and felt blast. Wind so strong some people fell down. It banged doors."

Of the 82 Rongelapers, about 45 suffered radiation burns. Many of these were slight. One man, 39-year-old Toma Naril, still has a bad burn on the back of his right ear. Three months after the explosion, he was fishing in a canoe when the ash began falling.

"Some were frightened," said a Rongelap medical aide. "By night children were crying. Many adults were sick."

A few days after exposure, some of the residents began losing their hair. Three days after the blast a destroyer arrived to evacuate the residents. All started taking showers then.

The evacuation from Rongelap and Utirik was completed in two days. The affected people received medical assistance here on the Kwajalein Atoll. A top medical team was flown from the United States, arriving March 10.

In April a survey party visited the two affected atolls. This consisted of representatives of Joint Task Force 7; commander in chief Pacific Fleet; high commissioner, Trust Territory of Pacific Islands; the Atomic Energy Commission's engineer contractors (Holmes and Narver) and the native magistrates of Rongelap and Utirik.

It was decided the Utirik people could return home, with adequate water and food supplies to be furnished them. It was determined the Rongelap people would have to stay off their atoll for a year. They will live, meantime, on 14-acre Ejit in the Majuro Atoll.

There the AEC contractors have built an entirely new village of 27 buildings.

"There is anger among some people," Anjin said. "I think it will disappear if we get back home. They trust the American people."

He said the Rongelapers have been well taken care of since their

Bob Thomas In Hollywood—

'I Love Lucy' Begins Fourth Year Still No. 1 In Nation

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—I Love Lucy is starting its fourth year of laugh-provoking programs and shows no signs of slackening its pace as the No. 1 TV show of the nation.

On most audience ratings, cartoon-topped Lucille Ball has been able to nose out tight-lipped Joe Friday of Dragnet. Her supremacy in the surveys has been going on almost since the series started.

Having witnessed the inception of the show, I dropped by the set for an interview when the players started their first show for the fourth season. It will be seen next September. Lucy was up to her usual shenanigans, sitting on a ledge outside the apartment while Ricky and the Mertzes hunted for her.

The show did not appear to have changed in its three years of prosperity. There was the same frantic movement of three cameras and crewmen to get everything rehearsed for the evening performance. There was the same earnest cooperation and striving for perfection. One thing that distinguished I Love Lucy (and Dragnet) from its competitors is its complete professionalism. The laughs may not always be there when expected, but everything is done with expert craftsmanship.

I asked Lucille how long she thought the show could continue. "It's a mystery to me," she replied.

arrival on Kwajalein—with all the food, clothing, medical care and entertainment they need. The Marshallese people are movie fans. They like hillbilly and Hawaiian music.

Americans in the area felt a personal responsibility for the natives brought to Kwajalein. Mrs. Percy W. Clarkson, wife of the commanding officer of the task force, rallied wives of naval personnel in a clothing drive for the women and children. All the evacuated persons I talked with have been emphatic that their treatment has been the best. But there is a certain amount of sadness among the people of Rongelap.

"My people don't feel good about not going home," Anjin observed. "We fear we may have the fate of Bikini."

The 200 Bikinians, moved from island to island, are now on isolated Kili, inaccessible in a year or more of the year because of heavy surf.

Physically, Rongelapers today bear few signs of their exposure. Those who lost hair are getting it back.

Thirteen of the men made a brief visit to their home atoll to recover some of the possessions left behind. All the residents have been compensated for the lost crops.

Did these people have any message for the American people?

Paul Irujiman, 38, spoke up in Marshallese: "Please tell them not to do the same thing again—throw the bomb. We didn't do anything wrong."

Dalton Criticizes Smear Techniques By State Republicans

MOKANE, Mo., (AP)—Atty. Gen. John M. Dalton criticized what he called the McCarthy smear technique of Missouri Republicans in an address here yesterday before the Women's Democratic Club of Callaway County.

He said the firing of the "duly elected members of Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Committees" in Callaway and other Missouri counties offers samples of GOP activity "for political purposes only."

"The Republican leaders are attempting to extend to the county level the McCarthy technique of smearing, damaging and injuring reputations without opportunity of redress," Dalton said.

He also charged that President Eisenhower has failed to keep his promises to labor and agriculture. "We're going to Del Mar for two months after we do five shows for next season. If we did a picture, it would leave us no time off."

280 Los Alamos Scientists Hit Oppenheimer Case

LOS ALAMOS, N. M. (AP)—A petition from more than 280 Los Alamos atomic scientists strongly criticizes government handling of the case of Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer.

And, the scientists warned, the action taken against Oppenheimer may make it tough in the future to fill government laboratories with trained workers.

The petition, sent in the form of a telegram to the President, the Atomic Energy Commission and the chairman of the Joint Congressional Atomic Energy Committee, said:

"We agree that it's a prerogative of government to choose its own advisers."

"But it is inexcusable to employ the personnel security system as a means of dispensing with the services of a loyal but unwanted consultant."

Dr. Fred L. Ribe, who sent the telegram and helped collect the names, said it bore some 282 signatures—all gathered in less than one day and representing 80 per cent of the scientists here.

Oppenheimer headed the Los Alamos scientific laboratory when it developed the atomic bomb during World War II. He recently was barred as a security risk from further classified information and a three-man board, although holding Oppenheimer loyal, refused 2-1 to reinstate him.

Optimists Hear J. W. Watts Talk On Insurance

An informative talk on various kinds of insurance was given on Tuesday at the noon meeting of the Optimist Club at Bothwell Hotel by the Rev. J. W. Watts, a member of the organization.

Mr. Watts surprised the group by talking on insurance. He had brought along his fishing tackle box and being quite a fisherman they thought the talk would be along that line. However, the fishing tackle box was one of several things he brought along to illustrate articles that might be insured. All types of articles, he said, are insurable.

He explained the various kinds of insurance: fire, burglary, etc. He stated that the house must be broken into and things stolen in order to qualify under burglary insurance. Anything stolen from the back porch or outside would not come under burglary. He told of the bond insurance companies have on employees, the bond of builders to insure buildings will be completed and many others.

There are 12 different parts to automobile insurance, he said. A person under 25 and unmarried pays the highest rate of insurance, if he is the one who owns and drives the car.

When a young man tried to get insurance and was asked the required questions: if he was 25, was it his car, did he do the driving and was he married and was finally told of the higher rate of insurance, he didn't like it. That being married question was too much. "No insurance company," he informed them, "is going to force me to get married."

At the conclusion of Mr. Watts' talk, John C. McCloskey, attorney, told of the duty of anyone serving on a jury for any type of case. He urged all to follow instructions and not let sympathy count in giving a just verdict.

The meeting was presided over by Harold Barrick, president. Invocation was by the Rev. Robert C. Reinhardt, C. P. S. Ed G. Ringen led the singing, with Miss Lillian Fox at the piano.

Ex-East German Official Gets 15-Year Term

BERLIN (AP)—The East German radio announced last night that George Dertinger, former foreign minister of the Soviet zone government, has been sentenced to 15 years in prison for plotting to overthrow the Red regime.

The broadcast said five other alleged conspirators, including two of Dertinger's women secretaries, were given terms ranging from 3 to 13 years.

Dertinger, 51, was arrested Jan. 15, 1953, on a charge of espionage for the West. His wife was arrested at the same time but the broadcast last night made no mention of her.

Dertinger was a leading member of the East zone Christian Democrats, who collaborate with the ruling Communist party. He was foreign minister from October 1949, when the East German government was set up, until his arrest.

The broadcast said he was accused of espionage for U.S. intelligence agencies of collecting data on Soviet troops and Eastern economic secrets, and of drafting a plan with former West German State Secretary Otto Lenz for overthrow of the Soviet zone regime.

Van Fleet Says Intervention In Indochina Will Warrant An All-Out War In Korea

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—Gen. James Van Fleet, called home in the middle of a presidential fact-finding mission in the Far East, has recommended reopening the Korean war, invading the Chinese mainland, and unleashing our atomic weapons—if the "if" is in case we are forced into a military showdown over Indo-China.

Van Fleet made it clear, however, that he doesn't favor U. S. intervention in Indo-China except as a last, desperate resort.

Testifying behind closed doors of the senate foreign relations committee, Van Fleet stressed that the fighting in Asia should be done by Asian troops backed by American air and sea power.

If we are drawn into Indo-China war, Van Fleet advocated giving Syngman Rhee the green light to attack in Korea and turning Chiang Kai-Shek's troops loose on the mainland in order to keep the Chinese Reds "engaged in many quarters."

He also urged that "we should go in with everything we've got, including atomic weapons."

Van Fleet also spoke favorably of backing a Chinese Nationalist invasion of the mainland regardless of the outcome in Indo-China, though he made no out-and-out recommendation to this effect.

Silver Bullets

He suggested that some Chinese generals now on the Communist side could be bribed into switching their allegiance to Chiang Kai-Shek. Van Fleet quoted Chiang as predicting "mass defections" from the Communist army if the Nationalists ever returned to the mainland.

Van Fleet admitted that Chiang's army is growing old and needs "new blood," but claimed that native Formosans are slowly being integrated into the army. For example, he cited a reserve program that trains 20,000 young Formosans every four months, then releases them back into civilian life.

Van Fleet also admitted that Chiang's army is untested.

"You can't tell about an army until it has been tested," he said. It has been a mistake, he added, not to send a couple Nationalist divisions to Korea and test them under fire.

"Chiang's army has been trained and retrained. It is only now getting the equipment it needs," reported the general whose letter from Korea in the 1952 campaign did so much to win votes for Eisenhower.

He said we are fast approaching the hour of decision in the Far East, though he thought it wouldn't be too late to take decisive action within the next 12 months."

Note—Van Fleet a letter during the election implying that the Truman administration had lagged in training South Korean troops. The letter was read by Eisenhower in one of his campaign broadcasts. Later, Van Fleet was re-elected, somewhat in a huff, because he had expected to be continued by his old friend in the White House whom he had helped. Van Fleet's current inspection trip was arranged partly to appease his ire.

Atomic Gestapo

The final straw that has made members of the Atomic Energy Commission see red against Chairman Adm. Lewis Strauss is a recording device installed by Strauss at Commission meetings.

In the past, commission meetings have been informal, relaxed and featured all sorts of fascinating philosophical discussions of the future of atomic power. Today they are ice-cold, stiff, and edgy. Every commissioner knows that every word he says is being recorded, and he talks as little as possible before the Wall Street banker who has become czar of atomic energy.

The commissioners know that since the friends and words of Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer 15 years ago were used against him today, together with his lack of "enthusiasm" for the hydrogen bomb, their words also may be used against them in the future. So there is less and less discussion, less and less honest agreement.

"Today," said one man, "we entuse. We are all making a record. We can only hope that while we are making entusiasm, they are making progress in making bombs out in the field."

Note: Phone tapping of commissioners' telephones by security officers on behalf of Admiral Strauss is now considered routine. None of the three commissioners opposing Strauss says anything important over the telephone.

White House aides have hinted that President Eisenhower may veto the bill to legalize wiretapping, if the senate weakens it with too many restrictions.

The senate judiciary committee hasn't taken a final vote on the wiretap bill, but it is almost certain to refuse Attorney General Brownell's request for a free hand to tap telephones.

Many senators are afraid of their own phones being tapped, and won't agree to allow wiretaps without a court order. Others want to restrict wiretapping to the FBI.

Actually, such restrictions would make wiretapping even more difficult than it is under the present law. Today about half the agencies in Washington tap phones, which is legally permissible as long as the conversations are not divulged. But under a new wiretapping bill as proposed by the senate, a court order would be required for every wiretap.

As a result, the White House is worried that the wiretap bill may end up curbing more phone-tapping than it legalizes.

Meyner Puns

Referring to his election as New Jersey's chief executive as having been "in the bag" from the start, Governor Meyner told a story about a man who married a recalcitrant widow with a boisterous son. After they were married they went back to the (New Jersey) shore resort where the courting had been done, taking the boy along.

One morning the boy was observed coming in out of the surf. He was asked how he liked his new stepfather. "Just fine," said the boy. "Every morning early he rows me out five miles and lets me swim ashore."

"That's pretty far for a boy of your size. Do you like that?" he was asked.

"Sure," said the boy. "There's nothing to it once you get out of the bag."

Operation and Proper Care Will Benefit Harelip Child

By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.

A good many successful and prominent people were born with a split upper lip or a gap in the structure at the roof of the mouth. The former condition is called harelip and the latter cleft palate. The two often occur together.

The fact that so many have achieved success in life in spite of one or both of these defects proves, however, that such handicaps need not stand in the way of a full and satisfactory life.

These conditions fall in the group of what are called congenital defects. A person is born with them and the cause therefore has been operating before birth. It seems likely that they are the result of some influence existing before birth rather than being truly hereditary disorders.

The studies which show that German measles in the mother during the first three months of pregnancy predisposes to congenital defects throw some light on how this kind of thing could work.

It is naturally a shock to the parents to have a child born with a harelip or cleft palate. But the parents should not be too discouraged. Surgery can help enormously, not only in the appearance, but also in forestalling the speech difficulties which are such a serious part of the condition.

The nature of the operation needed should be planned early. Some prefer to operate while the child is quite young, as this may avoid some of the speech and other difficulties which would be encountered by postponing treatment.

Others favor surgery at about four years old. Either way there are questions of postoperative care; speech training and dental adjustments to mention the two which are probably most important.

From the standpoint of appearance as well as that of speech, the best possible correction of harelip or cleft palate is important. Children are even more sensitive about how they look than grownups, and a sensitive child with a "different" looking face can develop all sorts of complexes, especially excessive shyness.

It is wise therefore to make the lip look as normal as possible early in life; also, the parents should be aware of the psychological difficulties faced by the child.

The youngster should be helped to meet any thoughtless or cruel remarks of playfellows. Overprotection on the part of the parents can be as harmful as neglect!

What troubles we mortals do have. Mrs. B. asks about a friend who "suffers from every phobia one can think of."

She goes on to say that the friend had an appointment with an eye specialist, but by the time she had her eyes tested she had become neurotic she thought she was going blind, when all she needed was glasses for reading.

This sort of thing, of course, is a nightmare to the person suffering from the phobia and a distressing and trying experience for family and friends. In discussing it, it should be said first that a phobia is an abnormal fear.

It is not the kind of fear which all of us have in the face of a real risk. It is an excessive fear of something which is either imaginary or which a normal person will shrug off with a little worry.

In severe cases of phobia or obsession it may be a symptom of real mental disease. Under such circumstances, of course, a psychiatrist should be consulted.

There are many kinds of fears and I shall mention only a few of them because someone might think of a new phobia for the first time.

One fear is called acrophobia, which is fear of great heights. This seems to be quite common, probably so much so that it is almost "normal." There is another fear called bathophobia, which really means fear of great depths. If it really meant the way it sounded it would be common enough among children.

There are other phobias with long and astonishing meanings. At the risk of making this sound like a list, here are a few: apiphobia—fear of bees; autopsophobia—fear of being dirty; bibliophobia—dislike of books; cherophobia—fear of gaiety; and necrophobia, or fear of death.

Obviously, the last is a fear which nearly everyone has. It is a true phobia only when a person thinks about death almost constantly.

True phobias make the victim miserable and can completely dominate their lives and point of view. Even when the nature of the fear seems amusing to the outsider, it is a constant source of annoyance to the person involved and causes untold mental distress.

Should anything be done about these abnormal fears? The answer is yes, if possible. But remember, being afraid is abnormal only when it is excessive.

Gambling Devices Pay Off

Citizens around Wichita, Kan., were recently nonplussed when the Boeing aircraft plant paid $1408 for 92 pinball machines which had been seized in raids by the county sheriff.

The Air Force now says that the gambling machines were purchased for the electronic devices in them. These included relay banks, counters, sequence switches and transformers. As it turned out, this transaction saved around $8000 in the salvage of the electronic gear.

'Moral' Concepts

The American pledge of allegiance to the U. S. flag needs to have more godliness put into it, according to 11 congressmen. They have presented separate but identical resolutions to amend the pledge. All of the resolutions want the wording changed from "One nation, indivisible" to "One nation, under God, indivisible."

Rep. Louis C. Rabaut (D., Mich.) says of this proposal: "Remember, when you hear your own children recite the pledge of allegiance, that these same words as they now stand could come from little Muscovite children standing before the red hammer-and-sickle flag of Soviet Russia."

No Such Sign

In spite of the popular use of the term "bar sinister," English heraldry has no sign to indicate illegitimacy, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

The World Today—Breeding Doubt, Suspicion

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON—It's hard to cause astonishment with new misgivings about Communist infiltration of the government. This city has become a breeding ground for doubt and suspicion.

But it happens. It happened twice within a few days and in both cases, one real and one imaginary, the misgivings involved the Atomic Energy Commission, which directs the nation's whole atomic program.

Early last week a special board of inquiry, found that Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer, one of the world's great theoretical physicists, was loyal, highly discreet, a great keeper of secrets but — the board decided 2-1 Oppenheimer no longer should be entrusted with secret information by the AEC. Oppenheimer directed this country's development of the A-bomb during the war and has been a consultant to the AEC ever since. The full five-man AEC has decided to review the board's ruling.

A few days later Rep. W. Sterling Cole (R-N.Y.) raised a nationalist question about the AEC, whose members are picked by the President himself.

This was it, suppose someday one or more of the five commissioners should turn out to be a security risk and not entitled to the atomic information given the other commissioners.

Cole is chairman of the Senate House Committee on Atomic Energy, which acts as watchdog on the AEC.

The committee is considering an administration bill to make some changes in the basic Atomic Energy Act passed in 1946. All five members of the AEC have testified.

One of them, Thomas E. Murray, said he would like the law, if it is amended, to say clearly that "all members of the commission shall have equal authority and responsibility, and full access to all information."

Murray, together with Henry D. Smyth and Eugene M. Zuckert, had been appointed to the commission by former President Truman. President Eisenhower has appointed the other two: Adm. Lewis L. Strauss and Joseph Campbell.

The three Truman appointees voiced fear that some of the language in the bill—saying the chairman, in this case Strauss, should be the "principal officer"—would make Strauss a czar and cut the other members out of some vital decisions.

Murray expressed opposition to this idea and complained that Strauss had taken a number of actions without consulting the other members.

At this point Cole stepped in to say he was willing for the law to say all the members of the commission should have equal responsibility and authority, as Murray suggested. But he added:

"I am not quite so willing to accept the latter part of (Murray's) suggestion that all five members have equal access to information."

Why shouldn't all five commissioners, if they're going to run the atomic energy program, have full knowledge of what's being planned and done?

Cole said because it would "render helpless a commission which at some time in the future by majority vote might determine that one or two of the five commissioners should not have certain information."

At this point Rep. Chet Holifield (D-Calif.) said he was "astounded." He asked Cole if he meant to suggest that someday some individual member of the AEC itself might be considered loyal and discreet but a security risk.

Cole said he had something like that in mind. So, instead of having the law say all members must have all information on the atomic program, he said a majority of the board should decide who among them was entitled to have it.

If he had carried his thinking one step further it would have come to this: maybe, someday a majority of the five-man AEC might be security risks for, if one or two could be risks, then three or four or all five might be.

STREET ROD

by Henry Greger Felton

Copyright 1953 by Henry Greger Felton. Printed by arrangement with the publisher, Sedalia Democrat, Inc. Distributed by NEA Service.

THE STORY: Because teenagers will have hot rods and recklessness driving causes wrecks, Ricky Madison's father has taken the lead in organizing hot rod drivers to promote safety. A bill can be passed in necessary and the proposition is presented to the city council.

XVII

RICKY stood up. "We've got this timing association we just formed, and we need a place to run our drag races. The idea is, if the city lets us have a place for the races, we'll pledge not to race or break any laws on the highway. And our members have to have their cars inspected for safety, and abide by..."

"Just a minute, young fellow," George Reynow interrupted. "What you were saying, you want the city to turn one of its roads over to you for a race track? If we don't, you'll race on all the highways. Sort of a blackmail proposition. I'd say."

"And it's about time you young fellows got it through your heads to obey the laws," the mayor added. "You don't come up here and tell us which laws you'll obey and which you won't. I guess not."

"You're not being fair!" Ricky's father shouted, his sharp face taut and angry. "I explained this to you all, and you all seemed to agree with it."

"You're prejudiced because you've got a boy here speaking his piece," Gus Vorkle said. "The more I think this over, the more I'm against it. The idea of the city providing a race track? What we want to do is get rid of this hot-rod driving, not encourage it. If we give 'em a track, it will look like we're telling them to build hot cars. We'll have every crazy souped-up jalopy in the state coming down here to race. I don't see that."

"But you don't understand!" Ricky cried. "If it's supervised, if we have a place, we won't want to use the highways..."

It's for safety... "Boy, you're the one who doesn't understand," the Mayor said. "It's about time you and all the others like you understood that we're sick and tired of these hot rods. If something isn't done we'll see that the legislature raises the driving age. Then where'll you be?"

George Reynow pursed his mouth into a prim, tight circle. "Seems to me the young people of this town don't appreciate anything wholesome. Delville opened a recreation center where these young folks could get off the streets, but they never went near it. My wife used to supervise there. Said the only thing these boys wanted to do was annoy the girls. Now they're asking us to provide them with a race track. I think a curfew would do them more good."

RICKY's father was about to renew his argument for the boys when he noticed Ricky moving toward the council table, a stubborn, fighting look on his flushed face. Madison waited to hear what his son had to say, proud of the way Ricky was fighting for his idea.

"Mr. Mayor," Ricky said, "I don't think I made myself very clear. Maybe it's my fault. We're not asking for a race track, and we're not trying to blackmail the city either. We're trying to help solve a problem."

He supposed they were listening. They didn't interrupt.

"We also know that teen-agers drivers have a lot of accidents," Ricky continued. "That's why we formed the Delville Timing Association. It's to promote safe driving in safe cars. And it's also to give us a chance to experiment with cars and engines and learn something. That's why we want what we call a drag strip. To give us a chance to work on our cars, and have competitions, and make it worth while for everybody to drive safely. A drag race is an acceleration race. It tests cars. They've done it in other places with good results, and we'd like to do it here. Otherwise we know there'll be drags in the streets and on the highway."

Gus Vorkle shook his head. "That's just a new way of saying what you said before. You want the city to give you a race track and encourage hot-rod driving."

"The recreation center was fine for the little kids," Ricky said. "But we're too big to sit around and play checkers."

Mayor Travis banged his gavel on the table. "It won't do any good to sass the council, son."

"I'm not sassing," Ricky said. "I'm trying to explain." He looked around helplessly and saw Arnie. "Arnie," Ricky said. "What do you think about our idea?"

Arnie had been all for the idea, but now that the council had turned against it, he had to be careful. A couple of them thought he was too old and fat and lazy to be a policeman anyway.

"Who knows?" Arnie said. "Could be a good idea. Worth a try, maybe."

"You told me the other day it would make your job easier," Ricky said.

CHARLES TRUMM snorted. "Part of our trouble in this town is a policeman who's looking for ways to make his job easy."

Arnie regarded Trumm mildly with his blue eyes. "You try taking that tired prowler car and running down a full-race Merc, Arnie said."

The Mayor tapped with his gavel. "You have heard the petition. All in favor of the race track say 'aye.'"

"Aye!" Ricky's father spat the word out angrily. "Opposed signify by the usual sign."

The other councilmen grunted their negative vote. "Nays have it. Motion is defeated. If there is no further business before the council, we stand adjourned." The gavel tapped. The meeting was over. (To Be Continued)

Bob Thomas In Hollywood—Benny Goodman Is Getting Film Biography Treatment

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD—Now it's Benny Goodman, the man who started the swing era in music, who's getting the film biography treatment.

The great B. G., the King of Swing, has been here to confer with producer Aaron Rosenberg and writer Valentine Davies about his life story for the movies. The film pair put out "The Glenn Miller Story," and that's why Goodman has agreed to expose his own story on film.

"I was really impressed by the Miller picture," said the band leader. "I thought it was the first time the band business has been properly presented on the screen. Usually we're just brought in as a few numbers and have nothing to do with the story."

He speaks from experience. He has appeared in half a dozen films, from "Hollywood Hotel" (1937) to "A Song Is Born" (1948). His experiences were not too rewarding artistically, and he resists all offers to film his life until the Miller film.

I talked to Goodman and his Boswells at lunch and found him slightly more talkative than he is in the past. Although he was one of the leading instigators of a new era, he seems calm and relaxed now. He's 45, but he still has his apple-cheeked appearance and is the picture of health.

A year ago, he collapsed during a triumphant return tour with his old band. "But it wasn't my heart," the doctors told me," he said. "It was just fatigue. I figured out I had averaged four hours' sleep for four nights. There was too much excitement."

He's back tootling his clarinet, but this time with small combos in night clubs.

I asked him if he thought the band business would come back as big as it was in the prewar years.

"The band business was just like the movies," he remarked. "In those years, any movie, good or bad, made money. It was the same with bands. The business supported a lot of bands that weren't exceptional."

The really good bands, just like good movies, still do good business, he said. But the mediocre

In both categories die on the vine. The bands are further hurt by the fact that kids don't dance as much as their elders did, he said.

State Registered Nurses Get New Insignia June 15

Missouri registered nurses on June 15 will begin the wearing of a new insignia on their uniforms as a means of identification to the public and to the patients.

The professional nurse insignia, which is in two tones of blue and white, is to be worn on the uniform pocket or left sleeve. On it is embroidered the traditional lamp of nursing in wedgewood blue, superimposed on the lamp, in royal blue, are the letters "R.N."

Licensed practical nurses have also approved the wearing of a sleeve insignia in light gray and royal blue on August 1. A sun and oak leaf motif are included with the initials "L.P.N." distinctively placed in the center. Both insignia will carry the current licensing date of the nurse.

A need of such an insignia has been felt by both the public and the nurse groups for a long period of time. The nurse's uniform and cap now are worn by other individuals employed in several fields of health work. Pins worn by both graduate and practical nurses are too small for practical purposes of identification.

The Missouri State Nurses' Association, the Missouri State Association of Licensed Practical Nurses, and the Missouri State Board of Nursing, the state's licensing agency, have approved the wearing of the insignia. Miss Marjorie Elmore, R. N., executive secretary of the Missouri State Nurses' Association, said that the insignia is a protection to the public to the patient, and to the nurse.

THE OLDER youngsters in a Sedalia family recently started taking music lessons and they have been having a big time playing together. There doesn't seem to be a place in the picture for the little five-year-old girl so she made one herself. She stands back of them and directs them with her hands. It is great fun, thinks Kathy.

One evening the music stopped for a little conversation and Kathy waited for what she considered a reasonable length of time. When they continued to talk she thought it was time to break it up. "Come on boys and girls," she said with the authority of a director, "let's go!"—H. L.

Father had been left on Sunday afternoon to mind the little five-year old girl, and things went pretty well until she woke up from her afternoon nap.

"Let's make some Koolade," she said.

Father, who was so comfortably seated and didn't want to get up, said he didn't know how to make it, and of course she was too young to know that the directions were on the package, so he thought he was safe. Well, she might not have been old enough to know about reading directions, but she was certainly old enough to know exactly how to make the drink.

"I'll tell you how to make it," she said, insisting he go with her to the kitchen. "You get a pitcher of water, first, empty the package in it and put in some sugar."

So father had to make the drink after all.—H. L.

Yesterday's Games— Braves Save Their Wins For On Road

By BEN PHLEGAR
Associated Press Sports Writer

How long will the Milwaukee Miracle last if the Braves continue to save their winning baseball for their road trips?

A quick rundown of the Braves' season and lost record at home and abroad suggests the Milwaukee patrons should be getting the first team, as advertised, but they certainly aren't seeing it at its best.

With the top home attendance in either league—448,659 cash customers for 23 single games and two twin bills—the Braves have won for the home folks only 11 times. They've been beaten in County Stadium 16 times.

On the road it's an entirely different story—14 victories, including one streak of 9 straight, and only 6 losses.

With the help of their fine road pace the Braves actually are in fourth, four games behind the league-leading Brooklyn Dodgers. They came home May 28 in first place by a game and a half but promptly dropped 8 of 11, including a 6-5 heartbreaker to the New York Giants last night.

The Giants, trailing from the time Joe Adcock hit a grand slam home run in the first inning, won on two runs in the ninth. Al Dark singled for his fourth hit. Hank Thompson walked and Monte Irvin doubled them home.

The Chicago White Sox took sole possession of first place in the American League by whipping Philadelphia 9-3 while Cleveland was bowing 5-2 to Washington on Maury McDevitt's two-hitter. Billy Hoeltz gave the New York Yankees only two hits as the Tigers won 8-0. Baltimore beat Boston 7-4.

Brooklyn's 16-game winning streak ended with a bang. The Dodgers were trounced 10-3 by the St. Louis Cardinals. Chicago edged Philadelphia 6-5 and Cincinnati tripped Pittsburgh 5-0.

Brooklyn committed four errors and the Cardinals combined Carl Erskine and two successors for 16 hits. Stan Musial hit his 20th homer top in either league, and a triple, driving in four runs. Wally Moon drove in another four with a triple and three singles.

Robin Roberts of the Phillies succumbed to the home run power of the Cubs. Ralph Kiner hit a pair, his 9th and 10th, and Hank Sauer hit his 19th.

Corky Valentine registered the second shutout by a Cincinnati pitcher this season as he blanked the Pirates on eight hits.

The White Sox broke open their game at Philadelphia with five runs in the seventh inning. A single, double and walk lifted the bases. One run scored on Minnie Miñoso's sacrifice fly, two more on Ferris Fain's double and a final pair on George Kell's home run.

Virgil Trucks scattered four hits in winning his eighth game. He has been beaten three times.

The Indians sorely missed their injured big guns, Bobby Avila and Al Rosen, as they lost to Washington for the first time this season. The only Cleveland hits were a pair of singles by Al Smith. Eddie Yost whacked a three-run homer off loser Early Wynn in the sixth.

Hoeltz had a no-hitter going against the Yankees through six innings but Irv Noren scratched a single off the glove of shortstop Harvey Kuenn to open the seventh. Kuenn led the 14-hit Detroit attack against loser Ed Lopat and two relief pitchers with two doubles and two singles which drove in four runs.

Baltimore broke Boston's four-game winning streak with four runs in the last two innings, two of them on Gil Coan's eighth inning double.

Cards Cut Bums' Winning Streak At 10 Straight

ST. LOUIS — If nothing else comes of the 1954 baseball season, the St. Louis Cardinals can at least call themselves streak stoppers.

The Birds, with slugging Stan Musial belting his 20th homer and a triple to drive in four runs, drubbed Brooklyn's league-leading Dodgers last night, 10-3, to stop the Bums' streak at 10 straight.

Earlier this season, the Cardinals stopped a Milwaukee streak at 10—the longest in the National League to date.

Musial, whose .388 batting average is tops in the league, also leads in homers and runs batted in with 66. The victory also snapped a three-game Cardinal losing streak.

Wally Moon also drove in four runs with a triple and three singles. Bill Sarni smashed a double and two singles and Ray Jablonski collected three singles to bring his second-place average to .385.

The Cards collected 16 hits off starter Carl Erskine and relievers Ben Wade and Erv Palica.

For Brooklyn, Gil Hodges, collected his 14th homer and a double while Carl Furillo contributed three singles.

Tom Poholsky gained credit for his second win of the year against three defeats but he needed help from Stu Miller after retiring from the game in the seventh with a blister on his throwing hand. A brilliant defensive play saved him in that frame.

Harleman Winner In Sunday Night Events at Marshall

Blazin' Ben Harleman, Kansas City, romped home the winner in three events in the midweek auto races at Marshall Sunday night. Harleman, driving the No. 14 Cunningham Offy, usually driven by Bill Chenault, won his elimination heat over Johnny Yonke and Danny Fry, took the handicap event from Clyde Palmer and Bud Howard. He led all the way in the main event to emerge the victor in the feature.

Ed McVay, popular Kansas City, won the trophy dash and finished third in the feature. During the dash event, Danny Fray, Springfield, flipped the Thomas Offy in the east turn, landing upright, and steered the car off the embankment. Fry returned to run in the second heat, in which he placed third.

Fords again showed up very well, Johnny Young taking a second over Fry, and in the final sixths in the main, Willie Hunziker finished ahead of Willie Wildhaber, an unannounced entry from Lexington, Ill.

George Morrow, in a Henry J powered car, won the special event.

The summaries:
Best time—Wildhaber, 18.39.
Trophy dash, three laps—McVay, Fry.

First heat, eight laps—Palmer, Hunziker, McVay.

Second heat, eight laps—Harleman, Yonke, Fry.

Third heat, eight laps—Howard, Wildhaber, Williams.

Handicap, eight laps — Harleman, Palmer, Howard.

Special event—Morrow.

Feature, 25 laps — Harleman, Palmer, McVay, Hunziker, Wildhaber, Yonke.

Kuenn Happy On Yank Hit As Tigers Win

NEW YORK — The happiest person in Detroit's clubhouse after last night's 8-0 victory over the New York Yankees was Harvey Kuenn, the Tigers' fine young shortstop.

"Was it because he collected four hits and drove in four runs in his best batting show of the season? Absolutely not. It was because of a hit made by another player—and a Yankee player at that."

Sounds confusing, doesn't it? But it makes sense.

For six innings yesterday, Billy Hoeltz, young Tiger left-hander, had tamed the Yankees without a hit. With none out in the seventh, Irv Noren hit a sharp grounder past the mound to the left of second base. Kuenn slapped the ball down but couldn't hold it and it went to an infield single, the first by the Yankees.

Then came the eighth. With one out Jerry Coleman connected with a fast ball and lined it to left center for a double, the second Yankee hit and the first one that wasn't tainted.

That was the hit that made Kuenn so happy. Had Coleman not connected safely, Hoeltz would have been deprived of a no-hitter because of the excusable slip by Kuenn. What made it more embarrassing was that Kuenn and Hoeltz are roommates and great friends.

"I had the ball all the way," said Kuenn. "I was just about to grab it when it took a hop and hit me right on the thumb. I felt so badly I didn't even bother to check the scoreboard to see whether they gave me an error on the ball or called it a hit. I would have felt terrible if that was the play that deprived Billy of a no-hitter."

Hoeltz, who admitted it was the best game he's pitched all year, said he didn't feel badly when the official scorer called that play a hit.

"Sure, I knew that put an end to my no-hitter," he said. "But I didn't feel badly about it. I figured that made up for an out I got earlier. In the second inning, Al Kaline, our right fielder, made a spectacular catch of a liner by Bill Skowron that was labeled base hit all the way."

Cancelled last week because of unseasonably cold weather, and a severe threat of rain, stock car racing will resume this Thursday night at Sportsman's Speedway. Marshall, with a full program of races on tap.

Among the favorites to gain top honors are Harold Cromley, Marshall; Torch and Owen Aleshire, brother team from Moberly; John Bowman, Elm; and several Kansas City drivers. Cromley has been improving steadily this season and finds the Marshall track much to his liking. Owen Aleshire also has shown good form, and Torch Aleshire and Bowman are recognized threats on any track.

Of the Kansas City pilots expected, three have already won feature events. Judd Larson, co-holder of the one-lap record, now has won seven straight features at Olympic Stadium in Kansas City.

Junior Howen, winner of the second feature, is rebuilding his fast No. 24, and should also furnish strong competition. Orval Suris, who has not yet done too well at Marshall, is now driving the American Glass No. 25, with which Bill Lawson set a new one-lap record on the half-mile at Riverside Stadium, Kansas City, and won the initial feature event there.

Racing begins each Thursday night at 8:30, preceded by qualifying time trials. A trophy dash for the four fastest cars, three heat races, a consolation race, and the 25 lap feature event make up the program. Sportsman's Speedway is located on Highway 240, one mile east of Marshall.

Landy Fails His Try for Elusive 4-Minute Mile

STOCKHOLM, Sweden — Australian ace miler John Landy failed in his try at the elusive four-minute mile but said after last night's race, "There will be some more races during my Scandinavian tour."

The rain-soaked cinder track hampered his attack against the mile world mark—which also included the 1,500-meter world record—but the 34-year-old Australian still shrugged his shoulders.

The cinder track at Olympic Stadium and most cinder tracks I have seen in the Scandinavian countries are far better than the grass tracks we have in Australia," he said. "But it could have been much faster."

Landy ran in the cold and rain and was clocked in 4:01.6 trying to break Roger Bannister's 3:59.4 mile record.

He was caught in exactly the same time he turned in last week at Turku, Finland, and tied Sweden's Arne Andersson for the fifth fastest mile in history.

Ben Is Still The Favorite In U. S. Open

NEW YORK — Who is going to beat Ben Hogan, the defending champion, who claims he isn't in shape to win again, in the U. S. Open Golf championship at Baltusrol next week.

In spite of his recent illness and his protests that he can't win, Ben still will be the favorite when the first round begins June 17. But if you have to pick someone else as the winner, there are 13 other former Open winners in the field—and the big man who never won, Sam Snead.

And at least four, possibly five, of the ex-champions must be conceded a good chance to repeat.

Taking them in order, they are Julius Boros (1952), Cary Middlecoff (1949), Lew Worsham (1947), Lloyd Mangrum (1946) and Byron Nelson (1939).

Boros managed to break through the Hogan monopoly in Ben's home state two years ago. The same year he won the Tam O'Shanter world championship and led all the pros in money winnings.

A virtual unknown up to that time, big "Jay" slipped back almost into obscurity last year, but he kept plugging away on the tournament trail and has made something of a comeback. Teamed with Dutch Harrison, of Ardmore, Okla., Boros tied for first in the Miami four-ball tournament last February, losing the playoff to Tommy Bolt and Dick Mayer.

Then a month ago he won the lush Ardmore Open, worth $7,200 in regular prize money and $750 in bonuses.

Middlecoff, who stalked off the course during last year's in a pique over starting times, has had a very successful winter and spring season. Although he hasn't won a tournament this year, he has taken home second money three times and has been out only once, collecting nearly $16,000 in tournament winnings.

Mangrum, who had trouble with his clubs during the winter, apparently found a set to suit him this spring. Since late March, Lloyd hasn't finished worse than tied in any tournament, and only last week he beat Ted Kroil in a sudden death playoff for the Western Open title.

Worsham hasn't seen much tournament action since he holed that wedge shot to win at Tam O'Shanter last August. He got one of those fat exhibition contracts. But he did take down top money and played well to tie for 12th place in the Masters.

Nelson, Hogan's boyhood rival who retired from tournament play nearly a decade ago, has slowly been emerging from retirement this spring. Starting with the Masters, he has played in four tournaments, and he showed some of his old-time form and accuracy when he tied for third in the Fort Worth Colonial Invitation.

Snead, of course, is supposed to be hexed in the Open and he looked that way when Hogan pulled away from him on the final round at Oakland last year. But it was a different story when he whipped Ben in the Masters playoff in April and won the Meadow Brook round robin by a record margin.

Ike Economic Advisor Sees Early Upturn

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's chief economic adviser says the nation's economy is poised for an early upturn, spurred by new developments in defense and business expansion spending.

Dr. Arthur F. Burns, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, told a news conference yesterday that if unemployment follows its usual seasonal pattern, there would be about four million jobless by July. That would be nearly 200,000 more than the government has reported as out of work last month.

Burns said he expects a rising trend of business activity to whittle unemployment sharply in the fall.

"There is evidence that the decline has leveled off," Burns said. "The records indicate an earlier upturn. ... There are very encouraging signs for an over-all recovery in the near future in non-agricultural industry."

Burns covered virtually all aspects of the economy in the course of answering reporters' questions. He seemed to find encouraging signs everywhere.

His first news conference as White House economic adviser grew out of a question asked at the President's own meeting with reporters last week—whether the administration had actively combated the business downturn that set in last summer.

Eisenhower told reporters Burns could best answer that question.

When asked about this yesterday, Burns said the government acted swiftly to ease the dip even as it laid the basis for a new upswing.

He said that when the 1954 fiscal year ends on June 30, the government will have spent about two billion dollars less on defense than was predicted in Eisenhower's budget message to Congress last January.

The President's prediction was $39,300,000,000.

Thus, Burns said, defense spending may sink by only about three billion dollars in the next 12 months instead of five billion dollars as forecast in January. That, he said, is because some of the reductions expected in fiscal 1955 will have already taken place.

Belgium Blames Soviet Air Force For Plane Attack

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—Belgium today blamed the Soviet Air Force for an attack on a Belgian Sabena transport plane last Thursday and sent a formal protest to Moscow.

Cannon fire from the attacking plane killed one member of the crew and injured two others. The transport was carrying a load of purebred pigs from London to Zagreb. It made an emergency landing at Graz in Austria.

Crewmen said the plane was hit while over Yugoslavia by a Soviet MIG fighter which tried to force the transport to land across the nearby Hungarian frontier.

A communiqué from the Belgian Foreign Affairs Ministry said: "The investigation carried on the spot of the attack of a commercial Sabena plane on June 3 demonstrates that the attacking plane is a MIG15 jet fighter bearing the identification marks of the Soviet Air Force."

"Under these conditions, the Belgian government asked the Belgian Embassy in Moscow to protest to the Soviet government, to demand the punishment of the guilty party and compensation for the victims."

Communist newspapers have indicated that the Red View on the incident was that the Belgian plane had violated Hungarian territory and had refused to land after it had been ordered to do so.

The crew of the Belgian plane denied having left the proper air corridor on its way to Zagreb. At no time, the crew claimed, was the plane flying over Hungarian territory.

Majority of Unions To Sign Peace Pact

WASHINGTON (AP)—A sizable majority of AFL and CIO unions prepared to sign a labor peace pact today despite efforts of some powerful unions to kill off the idea.

By signing, unions would pledge not to "raid" the memberships of other labor groups which agree to abide by the pact.

Almost 70 of the AFL's 110 affiliates and more than 30 of the CIO's nearly 40 unions were reported ready to sign. AFL President George Meany and CIO President Walter Reuther have plugged the plan as a preliminary to possible merger of their two organizations into a single 15-million-member labor federation.

Among the holdouts were known to be the 1,300,000-member AFL Teamsters union, headed by Dave Beck, the 700,000-member AFL Carpenters union, and the 1,200,000 member CIO Steelworkers union, headed by David J. McDonald.

Gets $2,500 Damages For Breach of Promise

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A Circuit Court jury yesterday awarded Mrs. Ethel Lucille Allen, 50-year-old nurse, $2,500 damages in her breach of promise suit against a man she said failed to show up for their wedding.

Mrs. Allen, a widow, told a jury of 11 men and women in suburban Clayton that John E. Farris asked her to marry him, but then didn't appear for the wedding in 1952 at the suburban Hill Baptist Church when she, a minister and 25 guests were waiting.

Farris, a 51-year-old stationary engineer, denied he had asked Mrs. Allen to marry him. Mrs. Allen had filed suit for $150,000 damages.

A PICTURE THAT GOT THROUGH—This photo of two Communist Peoples' policemen parading with tommyguns near the Reichstag building in the Red sector of Berlin landed five U.S. newsmen in a Communist police station. The newsmen, in Europe to cover the D-Day anniversary celebration, strolled into the Soviet sector of Berlin where mobs of German youths were conducting an anti-Western demonstration. A United Press staff correspondent, W. R. Higginbotham, made the above picture and others before a policeman stopped his group and asked for passports. It appeared that some of the demonstrating Reds had informed on the newsmen, who were detained inside a police station for about 15 minutes. The newsmen were permitted to leave with Higginbotham departing with his camera and film intact. (NEA Radio-Telephoto)

Syngman Rhee Links Korean Papers to AP

SEOUL (AP)—President Syngman Rhee today pulled a switch linking the 61 South Korean news and radio subscribers of the Korean Pacific Press to the worldwide radio-teletype facilities of The Associated Press.

"This is another one of my dreams come true," Rhee said. "I always wanted Korea to receive news reports direct from America. This is a realization of that dream."

The Korean-Pacific Press, the largest news agency in South Korea, now receives the Associated Press from San Francisco. It translates the report into Korean and distributes it to 49 newspapers and 12 radio stations.

KPP President Kim Dong Joon said, "This enlarges the size of our news report 10 times over and we are very happy to be a member of the Associated Press family."

Frank J. Starzel, general manager of The Associated Press, said in a message from New York:

"We congratulate the Korean Pacific Press on this forward-looking step making possible speedier reception of a more comprehensive news report, thus strengthening its ties with publications throughout the free world which through The Associated Press dedicate themselves to the highest ideals of journalism."

Previously, KPP had received an abbreviated AP report by wireless telegraph from San Francisco to Tokyo.

Reporter Is Jailed For Withholding Name Of News Source

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP)—A newspaper reporter was placed in jail for a few hours yesterday after he refused to reveal the source of a story about alleged shortages of funds in the City Hall.

Harry Young, a reporter for Springfield Newspapers, Inc., was ordered to appear again before a grand jury today.

The grand jury cited Young on a contempt of court charge before Circuit Judge William Collins after he refused to reveal the source of a story about alleged shortages of funds in the City Hall.

Young told the court he got the City Hall story from a confidential source and said he could not break that confidence by revealing the name of his informer.

Judge Collins sent Young to jail but released him later in the day.

Carpenter Recovers After Concrete Burial

DENVER (AP)—Arthur Pittman, 44-year-old carpenter, was recovering today after being buried under a cubic yard of concrete.

Pittman was working at the basement level yesterday when a bucket of cement being lifted in a new 23-story building tilted at the 14th floor and cascaded upon him. Co-workers dug him out. Hospital attendants said his injuries were not serious.

Golf-Ball Sized Hail Damages State Crops

CARUTHERSVILLE, Mo. (AP)—A two-part hail storm, with stones reported the size of golf balls, ripped through a section of Pemisic County north of here yesterday, damaging cotton and soy bean crops over an estimated 8,000-acre area.

The storm, which was preceded by about an inch of rain, hit an area about five miles north of this southeast Missouri town in the "boothel" section of the state.

The cotton and soy bean crops, which had been replanted after a similar April hail storm, were reported to be a total loss in some sections while the damaged ranged downward to about 15 percent.

At Caruthersville, about one-half inch of rain fell, but no hail. Leaves on the crops were reported stripped and cut to ribbons by the storm.

Insurance adjusters, who were checking on crop damage from the previous storm, were caught in yesterday's storm.

Farm Bureau Fed. Sponsors Contest To Push Dairy Items

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo.—Missouri dairymen are producing a lot of milk products—so much, that the Missouri Farm Bureau Federation is sponsoring a contest to promote more consumption of the products. The farm bureau divided the state up into four regions and has promised the most successful farm bureau family in each region a prize for promoting new ways to cut the dairy surplus.

One suggestion that federation President H. E. Slusher made in announcing the program was "increase consumption of dairy products in farm bureau families."

Hal Boyle's Column--

Watches East German Youth Rally, Experiences Sorrow

By HAL BOYLE

BERLIN (AP)—"All Germans around one table."

That was one of many slogans for unity changed this week during a three-day Communist-sponsored rally of 500,000 German boys and girls in the debris of East Berlin. Watching the slow torrent of youth swirl through the rubble left by the war, I had to suppress a wistful urge to seize a banner and start yelling an old battle cry of my own youth:

"Up the alley. Down the street. Central High School—can't be beat."

It seemed to me that the paraders might just as well enjoy chanting that slogan instead of "Down with Western Imperialism" or "From Berlin to Rome, Yank Go Home." It doesn't make much difference to the average teen-ager what he hollers—just so he knows he is hollering the same thing as the teen-ager next to him.

But the trouble with the slogans the teen-ager of Eastern Germany is being taught is that they don't lead merely to the black eyes and bruised muscles of juvenile gang fights. They are a prelude to bugle blowing and another great big grown-up war.

This was my first look behind the fringe of the Iron Curtain in five years. I had the depressing illusion I was looking at half a million dirty-necked children, wandering parentless through a ruined world, crying words they did not really understand themselves.

But they were only puppets of a new power for murder. Somebody had bought the big red banners that hang from almost every broken building. Someone had put up loudspeakers along the streets that rang with martial airs. Someone had taught them to wear a blue shirt initialed FJD. Someone had taught them how to march in ordered rows.

The someone who had done these things was wise in the ways of corrupting the young. He was using exactly the same tactics Adolf Hitler had. And, just like Hitler, he wasn't going to all that trouble just to beat Central High School.

He even put on a tremendous night fireworks display to wind up the rally. I stood in a dense mass of these German boys and girls near Marx-Engels Platz that night, watching the great fiery showers overhead, hearing the crash of explosions, and wondering why anyone who had lived through Berlin's many nights of terror during the last war could enjoy this display. And as a matter of fact, there wasn't much cheering.

When the show was over, these children of yesterday went quietly back to their bivouac areas, or paused to make love in shattered doorways. At a Communist-sponsored youth rally the young people don't have to worry about snippy old prying chaperones. They are encouraged to like one another.

Here in Berlin this vast conclave of youth in the Eastern sector was taken by most as only another incident in a great battle that has gone on unceasingly since Hitler's fall—the continuous battle for the young German mind, an endless tug-of-war between East and West.

Nobody seems to feel that anybody is quite ready yet to blow the bugle, but it is widely taken for granted that in time the bugle will be blown. The present problem is to win the young mind to the future purpose.

But it must have made many besides myself tremendously sad, here in a vast capital still deep in the rust of a lost war, to see half a million boys and girls waving crimson banners and marching in step.

Berlin alone lost almost exactly that number of lives in the last conflict. Today it feels it is already the great beachhead of the cold war.

Union Leaders Reject Telephone Pay Hike Offer

NEW YORK (AP)—Union leaders for some 17,000 Western Electric Co. telephone installers in 43 states and the District of Columbia say a 4.9-cent hourly wage increase offered by the company "is not enough."

The union, district 10 of the CIO Communications Workers of America, is scheduled to resume negotiations with the company today.

The union did not formally reject the offer, which it is said was made yesterday, but indicated such action would be taken.

James M. Massey, District 10 director, said the union was getting ready for a strike in case no agreement could be reached. A strike vote was taken early in May but no date has been set.

The union said present wages average $1.66 an hour.

Western Electric is the manufacturing branch of the Bell Telephone System. The company last Wednesday agreed to a new contract with CWA District 11, which represents some 6,600 equipment distributors in 29 cities.

Union members are now voting whether to accept this pact, which provides job reclassifications and a pay boost of five to seven cents an hour.

Red Books Prepared
TOKYO (AP)—A recent Pieping broadcast told of a meeting by the "presidium of the East China Writers Union." It was decided there should be three historical novels this year.

A committee of writers was organized "to study life in factories, villages and building sites."

After that, the presidium decided it would be appropriate to study "the training of new writers."
